To Whom It May Concern:

It is our pleasure to provide a recommendation for Jeff Evans, who has been an invaluable consultant supporting us in various areas at the Spanish School of Abu Dhabi. We have gathered feedback from the team regarding his work in the following key areas:

Leadership and Teacher Development: Jeff has consistently demonstrated strong leadership in fostering a culture of growth within the teaching staff. His proactive approach in identifying professional development opportunities has greatly supported the team's ability to continually improve. Jeff has delivered tailor-made workshops on a range of topics, including questioning techniques and student-centered approaches, which have been instrumental in enhancing teaching practices across the faculty. His strategic vision for teacher development has helped the faculty adapt to changes in curriculum and teaching methodology, contributing to a high standard of education at SSAD.

Training and Coaching: As a consultant, Jeff has played an important role this year in supporting our strategic efforts to improve performance management. Through one-on-one feedback sessions with teachers, Jeff has helped identify key areas for improvement, which has led to tangible enhancements in teaching practices and student outcomes. His tailored coaching approach has supported teachers in addressing individual needs, ensuring that professional development is aligned with both the school's objectives and the teachers' growth.

Inspection Preparation: Jeff has been instrumental in preparing the school for inspections, particularly through his contributions to the School Development Plan and the Professional Development Plans. His active participation in strategic planning meetings has ensured alignment between these plans and the school's broader objectives, enabling a smooth and successful inspection process. His attention to detail and leadership have been vital in ensuring that all areas meet the required standards.
